

See you at

ESCMID Global

Vienna, Austria
11–15 April 2025

Register today for #ESCMIDGlobal 2025 where leading experts in the fields of infection exchange ideas and explore the latest innovations. The programme has been extended to 5 full days of expert analysis, cutting-edge research and more networking opportunities than ever before.

This year features new highlights like the ESCMID Mobile lab and Pipeline Monday, allowing participants to get hands-on experience and keep up with the latest in technology and drug development. With a focus on #AMR the time has never been more pressing than now to drive innovation in addressing of resistant pathogens across the spectrum.

ESCMID Global is also all about bringing experts together to enhance global collaboration through networking. Gather your colleagues from across the globe to share research, best practices and plan new projects advancing science #ForAHealthierTomorrow.

Next registration deadline is 5 March 2025 so don't delay and register now!
